

Inspection: What's in it for schools?*, James Learmonth.
Falmer, December 2000.

The late James Learmonth (HMI Inspector—Retired) devoted his life to school improvement in Britain and the United States. His work, knowledge and friendship greatly influenced the shape of Reaching for a Better Standard, Practice-Based Inquiry® and the SALT accountability system. TAW.

Inspection considers how inspection and “internal review” can support each other for maximum benefit to the quality of the education a school provides its students.
